Khaled Bendary

Max Planck Institute for Behavioral Economics
Jonas-Cahn-Straße 1, 53115 Bonn, Germany
(+49)-157-5590-3513 ◇ khaled.mohieldin53@gmail.com
◇ Website: khaled22219.github.io

EDUCATION

Universität Göttingen — Göttingen, Germany
Double MSc. in Development Economics; — Sep. 2021–Oct. 2023
jointly with CERDI-CNRS Université Clermont Auvergne

Thesis: Examining the Impact of Egypt's Takaful Cash Transfer on Household Welfare: Evidence from a Difference-in-Differences Approach.

Supervisor: Prof. Dr.Sebastian Vollmer
Grade: 1.3

Universidad de Guadalajara — Guadalajara, Mexico
MACOP-Winter and Summer School; jointly with Universität Göttingen — Mar. 2024–May 2024

Project: Fighting Screens with Screens: A Randomized School Experiment on Mobile Gamification and Childhood Obesity in Guadalajara

University of Zagazig — El-Sharqia, Egypt
BCom. in the Economics of Banking and Capital Markets — Aug. 2015–Jun. 2020

Fields: Commercial Studies, Business, and International Economics

REFERENCES

Thomas Piketty
Director, World Inequality Lab;
Chair Professor of Economics
Paris School of Economics
thomas.piketty@psemail.eu

Matthias Sutter
Director, Max Planck Institute for Behavioral Economics; Prof. of Experim. Economics at Universität Köln sutter@econ.mpg.de

Toman Barsbai
Professor of Economics,
University of Bristol
toman.barsbai@bristol.ac.uk

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Max Planck Institute for Behavioral Economics — Bonn, Germany
Predoctoral Field Researcher — Apr. 2025–Sep. 2026
with Johannes Haushofer, Matthias Sutter, and Toman Barsbai

- Contributed to the design and implementation of the Malengo educational migration RCT.
- Built a geospatial data-quality measure using GPS clustering and boundary matching to detect fabricated fieldwork interviews in Uganda and Germany (R).
- Programmed IAT, randomized vignette items, and coordination games to measure perceived social norms across origin and host households (SurveyCTO).
- Coordinated IRB and ethics submissions for a vocational-training RCT among refugees in Rwanda.
- Harmonized applicant data from six cohorts into one panel (Stata and R)
- Developed targeted attrition-reduction strategies for Ugandan and German follow-up waves.

World Inequality Lab, Paris School of Economics — Paris, France
Junior Economist and Data Coordinator — Aug. 2024–Feb. 2025
with Thomas Piketty, Lucas Chancel, and Rowaida Moshrif

- Updated historical distributional national accounts and inequality series for 216 countries (Stata).
- Coordinated incoming data across regional teams to ensure cross-country consistency (Stata).
- Integrated household surveys, tax records, and national accounts into the World Inequality Database.
- Built and deployed the Income Comparator, allowing income benchmarking against the global distribution.
- Programmed widbulk, a Stata command for direct download of the full World Inequality Database.

Princeton University & SciencesPo Paris Cairo, Egypt
Field Research Assistant Jun. 2024–Jan. 2025
with Suzanna Khalifa

- Digitized and harmonized Egypt's historical Marriage and Divorce registries since the 1880s (Python).
- Scraped and geo-referenced police station locations in Egypt to instrument distance to law enforcement as a predictor of gender-based violence and female labor sorting (Python & QGIS).
- Scraped and analyzed tweets surrounding Egypt's 2014 harassment law (Python & Wayback Machine).
- Ran difference-in-differences and event-study analyses of the 2014 harassment law's impact on female occupational sorting (Stata).

Data-Pop Alliance New York, United States
Research Intern Jan. 2023–Apr. 2023
with Emmanuel Letouzé and Daniela Arregui Coka

- Conducted key informant interviews in Sudan for UNICEF on attitudes toward FGM and child marriage.
- Contributed to a feminist lens approach assessing multidimensional inequality across 13 countries.
- Constructed a dataset tracking migrant flows across 38 resource-scarce and conflict-affected settings.
- Drafted a mixed-methods debriefing report for the Norwegian Refugee Council synthesizing field findings.
- Co-designed benchmark economic indicators for the Government of Senegal.

University of Nagasaki Nagasaki, Japan
Research Intern Aug. 2018–Mar. 2019
with Nguyen Tien Huy

- Conducted systematic literature reviews on digital health interventions and rural healthcare delivery.
- Reviewed and synthesized evidence on e-banking adoption and its effects on agricultural productivity.
- Screened and extracted data from medical and public health literature.

WORK IN PROGRESS

2025 Bendary, K. (2025). When cash meets norms: Evaluating the impact of Egypt's Takaful program on attitudes towards domestic violence. Unpublished manuscript.

POLICY PUBLICATIONS

2024 Landscape Mapping and Review of Technology-based Interventions to Mitigate Child Marriage and Female Genital Mutilation in 13 Countries in Africa and Asia—with UNICEF & UNFPA; see publication.

SEMINARS AND POSTER PRESENTATIONS

2025 Norwegian School of Economics PhD Workshop
2025 University of Amsterdam PhD Workshop.
2025 Max Planck Research Seminar, Max-Planck-Institut für Verhaltensökonomik.
2024 World Inequality Lab Internal Seminar, Paris School of Economics.
2023 Ibero-America Institute for Economic Research, Universität Göttingen.

OTHER INFORMATION

Affiliation	World Inequality Lab Fellow, Paris School of Economics
Programming	Stata (Proficient), LaTeX (Proficient), SurveyCTO (Proficient), QGIS, R, Python
Methods	Experimental Design, Quasi-Experimental Analysis (IV, DiD, and RDD), and ML
Interests	Labor, Health, Gender, Development, and Migration Economics
Languages	Arabic (Native), English (C2), French (A2), and German (A1)